GAME RULES

Match Play

A match lasts for one round. The match ends when either warrior loses all the impact damage gauges (watch the Bat Mark) or time runs out, and the winner is declared.

Winning and Losing

- When a character's impact damage gauge fills, that character loses one gauge and one Bat Mark. The first player to use up all Bat Marks loses the match, and the other player is declared the winner.
- If time runs out before either fighter uses up all Bat Marks, the player left with the most Bat Marks wins.
- If time runs out and both players have the same number of Bat Marks left, the player with the least damage in the impact damage gauge is the winner.

Draw Game

When time runs out, a draw game occurs if both players have the same amount of damage and the same number of Bat Marks remaining.

Double KO

A double KO occurs when both fighters lose the last Bat Mark at the same time. A double KO is a draw game.

Arcade Mode

1 Player. Choose your character from 18 warriors, and fight against CPU opponents. Defeat eight other fighters to win the game. You can continue after losing. Press the Start button for Player 2 to join in.

Versus Mode

Edit the name and color of a chosen character. Increase your character's status by defeating CPU warriors. These options are available:

Edit – Customize the character's name, color and type and check his or her status.

1P Battle – Match your character against CPU fighters. At the end of the match, your character will gain experience points. Depending on how well you fought, your character's attacking power, maximum number of impact damage gauges and Special Stock gauges may increase.

VS Battle – Go head to head with a friend's edit character. (You must connect two controllers in order to choose this mode.)

Load – Load an edit character from a Memory Card.

HOW TO PLAY

1. Choose a game mode.
2. Choose a character.
3. Choose a game setting:
Normal – No special settings.
Turbo – Accelerated game speed.
Auto – Your character has automatic blocking.
Auto & Turbo – Accelerated game speed plus automatic blocking.
4. Choose a Dark Force type:
DF Change – Use characters from the original arcade version of DARKSTALKERS 3 plus original PlayStation version characters Donovan, Pyron and Huitzil. Dark Force takes one Special Stock gauge. Air chain combo is always available without consuming any Special Stock gauge.
DF Power – Use characters from the games Vampire Savior, Vampire Savior 2 and Vampire Hunter 2. Dark Force takes two Special Stock gauges. Air chain combo is available only during Dark Force. Also, you can give unrecoverable damage to opponents, and certain EX moves become more powerful during Dark Force.

About Auto Mode

When you select the Auto setting, your character will automatically block opponents' attacks. On the down side, you take slight damage even when you block a normal attack, and your maximum number of Special Stock gauges is limited to three.

IMPACT DAMAGE GAUGE

When you take damage, the impact damage gauge builds up. Damage shown by the white bar is recoverable; damage shown by the red bar is not.

- Even if you fill up an opponent's impact damage gauge, the match will continue until one of you loses all Bat Marks.
- Any character losing one Bat Mark will return with full vitality in the impact damage gauge, as long as he or she has Bat Marks left. The winning character does not recover vitality.
- When you take damage, your vitality will recover by degrees as long as you don't take more damage. Basically, vitality lost by combo attacks returns more quickly, and vitality lost by single attacks returns more slowly. Damage from Dark Force attacks cannot be repaired.
- If you don't take damage for a while, the white part recovers, gradually returning to green.

White Bar - Recoverable Damage

Red Bar - Non-Recoverable Damage

SPECIAL STOCK GAUGE

The Special Stock gauge builds up as you attack. When the gauge is full, you gain one Special Stock attack. You can store multiple gauges until you use them. Having Special Stock gauges allows you to perform Dark Force, ES (Especial) and EX (Extra Special) attacks.

Attacks

Dark Force – Each character has a unique Dark Force attack.

- DF Change Characters – Require one Special Stock gauge to perform Dark Force. They can perform Air Chain Combos at any time.
- DF Power Characters – Require two Special Stock gauges to perform Dark Force. The damage you cause cannot be recovered, and your character's vitality will recover. Also, a certain EX attack becomes more powerful.

ES Attacks – These enhanced versions of special moves require one Special Stock gauge. Perform ES attacks by pressing two Punch (P) or Kick (K) buttons while giving a special move command with the Directional buttons. You can make ES versions of pursuit commands in the same way. (Some normal moves do not have ES versions.)

EX Attacks – These extremely powerful moves require one to three Special Stock gauges. Each character has several EX attacks.
